To celebrate Art Basel Miami and the launch of the new Black Carpet Collection, Dior Homme has organized a private dinner on December 6th in Miami in partnership with The Webster and Laffanour Galerie Downtown, Paris.

The dinner was held at The Webster in the presence of Kris Van Assche, Laure Heriard Dubreuil and François Laffanour. To mark the event, the ground floor of The Webster had welcomed an installation of the original Akari light sculptures by Japanese-American artist Isamu Noguchi, owned by Laffanour Galerie Downtown, Paris. Six of the lamps have been customized using photographs of flowers taken by Kris Van Assche and posted on his Instagram account. These floral images have been applied on the lamps in the style of an urban street collage.
